

BUSINESS CONTINUITY AND INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY

Information Security

Information Security, understood as the preservation of its confidentiality, integrity and availability, and that of the systems involved in its processing, is considered essential for the achievement of IDE's strategies and goals.

It is necessary to know, assess and address in an orderly manner the risks to which the information is subject, in order to:

- Establish policies, procedures and controls in relation to the information security and business objectives.
- Observe and measure the indicators associated with the risks and controls.
- Always maintain the risk below the company's acceptable level.
- Establish and manage the Business Continuity Plan, as an essential tool for maintaining the efficient management of information security and completing the cycle through continuous improvement.

Our commitment

We are actively committed to the compliance of the applicable legislation to which the company is obliged. Thus, we are aware of and abide by the applicable legislation on information security and the protection of personal data, and extend our commitment to all members of staff and interested parties.

IDE staff awareness about and knowledge of Information Security and personal data protection, and the reporting of security incidents to those responsible for its management, is essential for the correct operation of the systems which support information in the company.

Security concerns everyone

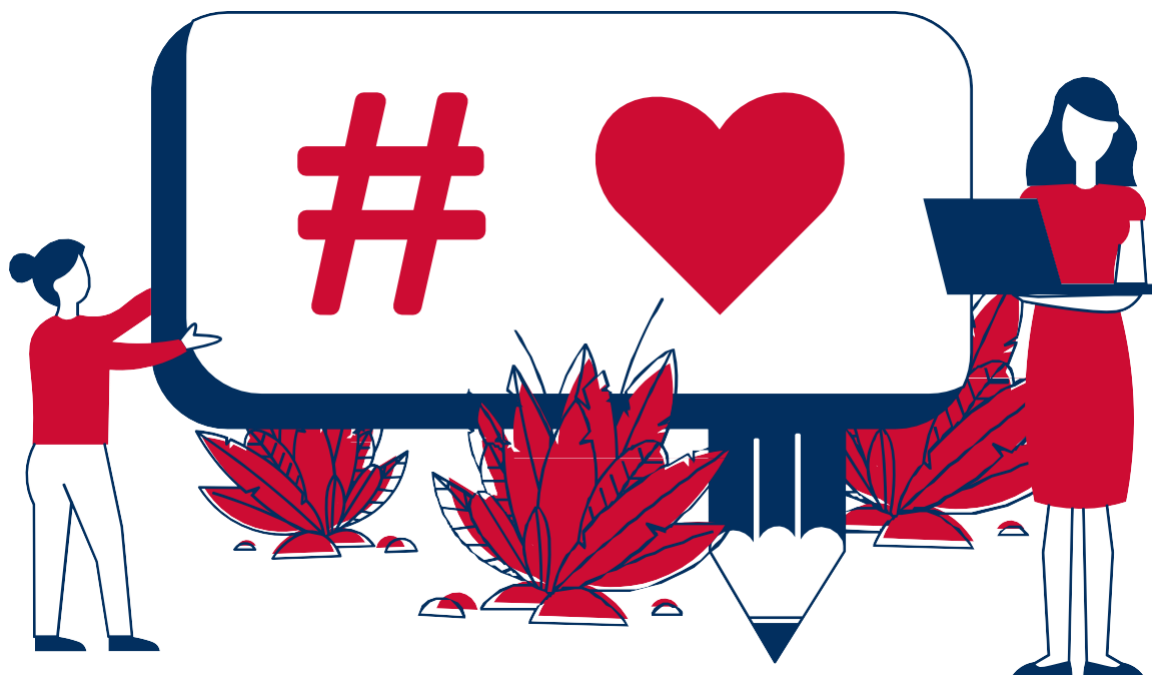

At IDE we carry out regular training and awareness activities in this area, considering these to be an essential element for ensuring the correct management of the knowledge of the staff which, consequently, affects the effectiveness of the actions and elements implemented in Information Security.

This Policy is available on the IDE corporate website and in the warning, notification tools available to all members of staff and interested parties.
